Dear Parent/Carer

Cambridge Technical Sport summer examinations

I am writing to share with you some important information regarding your child's summer series exams in Cambridge Technical Sport.

Your child will be sitting an exam in Sports Organisation and Development on the afternoon of Wednesday 15 May. Students' revision this half term should now be well underway. It is critical that they see these exams of great importance. A high achievement in these, alongside their completed coursework will set them up to achieve an excellent result in this subject.

To ensure your child is as prepared as they can be, we will be offering a morning revision session on the day of the exam beginning at 8.30am. The session will include breakfast and a drink and ensure that students feel prepared and confident heading into the exam. Please click on the links below which contain resources to help your child study at home:-
